

The Game of Cards

By Adolf Schroder, Andrew Brown, Claude Cahun

Pushkin Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Game of Cards, Adolf Schroder, Andrew Brown, Claude Cahun, The Game of Cards (Das Kartenspiel) by Adolf Schroder is a tightly wound suspense-novel about surviving the dangerous game of life, by one of German literature's best-kept secrets. The young student Markus Hauser accepts a job with Selma Bruhns, an elderly Jewish lady who was able to escape the Nazis and the Holocaust only at a terrible cost. When Markus arrives at her decaying, darkened house infested by numerous cats, what unfolds is a story of risky gambles, desperate decisions, and unbearable regret. The task that Selma gives Markus is almost sisyphean: he has to arrange thousands of letters in chronological order, so that they can be burnt in that same order. The content of these epistles tells the story of a young woman who emigrated to Brasil in 1939: she was one of two sisters, both in terrible danger, but only one of whom could obtain the single available passport out of the country. Now Selma is preparing for her death, and Markus has to help her. For six days he works conscientiously, all the while penetrating little by little into...
