Excerpt: . . . suprised at the cleanliness and order of their Lockup. They also visited Cridersville and Waynesfield once, and found them in fairly good condition. The Board would recommend that the buildings where the iron cages are in, be made fireproof if possible. The County jail was visited three times during the year by a committee of the Board, and also found this building in good and sanitary condition as could be expected, owing to its being such an old building. The County is very much in need of a new jail. The Board visited the Infirmary twice during the year. It being new, found it in good sanitary condition and well kept. The grounds have been completed, and is in keeping with the building. When last visited in September, there were only 14 inmates, 3 women and 11 men. The inmates are very happy and comfortable...
