Daily Struggles: The Deepening Racialization and Feminization of Poverty in Canada

By Maria A. Wallis, Siu-ming Kwok

Canadian Scholars Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Daily Struggles: The Deepening Racialization and Feminization of Poverty in Canada, Maria A. Wallis, Siu-ming Kwok, This unique reader offers a critical perspective on poverty by highlighting gender and race analyses simultaneously. Unlike previously published Canadian books in this field, this book connects human rights, political economy, and citizenship issues to other areas of social exclusion such as class, sexuality, and disability. Masterfully edited and presented in a logical, student-friendly fashion, "Daily Struggles" opens with theoretical frameworks that examine the radicalisation processes at work in Canada, with special attention to the consequences relevant to gender. The social construction of 'race' and its subsequent devaluation and marginalisation has several implications for radicalised individuals, especially radicalised women. In section two, the economic consequences of race and gender are profiled, while the third section looks at how poverty, race, and gender are criminalised. The text also examines other ways in which racialised people - specifically women - are socially constructed to experience their lives as second-class Canadian citizens. The fourth and final section presents additional consequences of the racialised and gendered nature of poverty - consequences that have a fundamental impact on quality of...
